

May Meeting, Part II

We had so many exceptional stereo photos for our May competitions - 33 from the open division, and 19 from the special “creative” division - that we need an extra night to finish the slideshows. A good problem to have! The Golden Gate Stereoscopic Society is unique in the high number of original stereo photos we submit monthly.

Our agenda for part II is to share and discuss the special “creative” competition slideshow, and enjoy selections from the 2019 Image of the Year competition.

Join us Monday, June 1, at 7:00 pm on Skype:

Slideshow Downloads

Every participant in our May 25th meeting successfully viewed or converted the side-by-side, parallel-view JPEG slideshow files. This successful experiment will continue for future online meetings. Moving forward, numbered slides and MPO formats will not be offered for download.

Please download the slideshow ZIP file before the meeting, and setup & convert (if necessary) the files for your screen or viewer before the meeting starts. We lost some time re-sending download links after our May meeting started.

Special Competition Subject, June 24

Our planned special competition subject for June, “Stereo Prints,” does not lend itself to the pandemic shelter-in-place order.

Please bring your special competition ideas to our June 1 meeting. We’ll discuss and vote on a topic.

Meeting Pages and Web Gallery

Jay Kusnetz has been hard at work improving ggstereo.org. A new, essential feature for members and guests alike is a monthly meeting page with a full web gallery of competition images, including tools to view stereo in anaglyph, side-by-side, and nine other formats. The web gallery is a simple way to follow along with stereo slideshows at our meetings, and share our work individually and together as the Golden Gate Stereoscopic Association.

Find the new meeting pages and web gallery under the “Meetings” menu on ggstereo.org.
